RUSSIAN SOLDIERS.

A Large Force on the Way to the Far East.

A Japanese Minister Says Their Relations With Russia Are Cordial and No Tension Exists Between the Two Governments.

London, Oct. 13.—A dispatch from Moscow to the Times, dated October 10, states that a large force of Russian troops, under orders for the far east, are now on their way thither by rail from Kharkoff.

The Russian correspondents of the same paper send quotations from newspaper articles pointing to Russia's intention to remain in occupation of Manchuria and add that it is reported from Vladivostok that as a result of famine in China, roving bands of Chinese have crossed into Manchuria, where their presence constitutes a danger to the Manchurian railway and that this necessitates keeping Russian troops in Southern Manchuria for an indefinite period.

The peculiar official explanation of the postponement of the czar's trip to Rome, "owing to circumstances over which he has no control," is interpreted in some quarters to mean that the threatening outlook in far eastern affairs calls for the emperor's presence in Russia.

There is no confirmation of the alarmist rumors. At the Japanese legation Sunday night no news had been received of the reported ultimatum.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Kobe, October 12, reports that the situation is somewhat easier but that the tone of the press is distinctly bellicose, whilst the same paper's correspondent at Geneva says that several Russian officers there have been suddenly recalled to join their regiments.

Other special dispatches describe Russian war preparations, etc., and the newspapers, which are intensely interested in the developments owing to the Anglo-Japanese alliance, are already publishing mass and estimate of the naval and military forces of the prospective belligerents and editorializing on the possibilities of the situation. The greatest attention is paid to the changed tone of Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister in London, who is much less confident that peace will be preserved than he was a week ago. Inquiries in Japanese banking, shipping and commercial houses in London, however, elicited expressions of disbelief in the outbreak of war.

Paris, Oct. 13.—The Figaro Tuesday morning publishes an interview with M. Kurino, the Japanese minister here, on the subject of the dispatch to the Frankfurter Zeitung from Shanghai to the effect that Japanese have occupied Ma-San-Pao and that an official declaration of war is expected. M. Kurino said the source of the dispatch was suspicious, as Shanghai was notoriously the originating point of bogus news. He personally had not received any confirmation of the report. He continued:

"Moreover, my government's last communications were wholly for peace. Our diplomatic relations with Russia are cordial and no tension exists between the two governments whatever certain foreign newspapers may say. I am inclined to think that the dispatch was a speculative maneuver."

FATAL COLLISION.

Three Men Killed and a Half Dozen Were Injured.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 13.—Three men were killed and three others were injured, one seriously, in a collision between Missouri Pacific and Frisco freight trains in the switch yards at St. Louis avenue and Santa Fe streets in this city Monday night. The dead: A. L. Johnson, Missouri Pacific switchman; John Murphy, Missouri Pacific switchman; George Kirkpatrick, flagman. Injured: William Austin, Negro, compound fracture of leg, which will be amputated; R. H. Braht, Missouri Pacific engineer, rib broken; J. F. Ward, severely bruised.

The Frisco train was standing on the crossing when the Missouri Pacific ran into it, turning over a freight car. This car fell over a crowd of men on the other side of the Frisco train who were waiting for the Frisco train to pass. The engineer of the Missouri Pacific train says he got a signal to proceed across the crossing, but it is believed he momentarily lost control of his engine. R. H. Braht, who was injured, was the engineer of another Missouri Pacific freight which was waiting for the Frisco train to clear the crossing. He had left his engine and joined the other railroad men near the Frisco train when the car was pitched upon them. Several men had narrow escapes.

Three men were seriously hurt while watching the wrecking crew at work. Nicholas Mathias, a Wabash engineer, and Theodore Busch, a Wabash fireman, both of Moberly, Mo., were struck by the crane of a water pipe. Mathias was struck in the forehead and Busch in the back. Artie Hudson, a farmer from Bellwood, Neb., was struck in the face by a heavy piece of wire.

STRIKERS RIOTING.

A French Town Given Up to Pillage and Incendiarism.

The Troops, Hampered By Obstructions Thrown in Their Way, Were For a Long Time Unable to Disperse the Rioters.

Armentieres, North France, Oct. 14.—This town was Tuesday given up to riot, pillage and incendiarism as a consequence of the weavers' strike. Nothing Tuesday morning foretold the serious disturbances about to occur, but at noon the strikers, not receiving answers to their demands from the employers, broke out into the wildest excesses. A mob of 6,000 gathered in the great square and urged the troops stationed there to throw down their arms, shouting, "Down with patriotism!"

The rioters then spread through the principal streets, breaking the windows of the stores, dragging out the huge display rolls of linen, which they stretched across the streets with the object of impeding the advance of cavalry. They wrecked shops, sacked the houses of persons obnoxious to the ringleaders and attacked the banks, in two of which they succeeded in stealing a few hundred dollars from the tills.

One gang set fire to a large quantity of linen in the cellars of Messrs. Bequarts factory, others broke the windows of houses and threw inside burning straw. The troops, hampered by the obstructions thrown in their way by the rioters, were for a long time unable to disperse the mob.

Finally a determined charge by lancers recovered temporary quiet.

After dark the rioters tore up the sewer gratings and paving stones and stretched wires across the streets. Women brought piles of empty bottles for use as missiles, while boys swarmed up the lamp posts and extinguished the gas jets. In spite of the efforts of the soldiers, the rioters then proceeded to sack the houses, dragging out the furniture, saturating it with petroleum and setting fire to it in the street. Fire was put to two houses belonging to the strikers' employers and one big factory. The local brigade being inadequate to cope with the conflagration, an urgent appeal was sent to the neighboring town of Lille, whence a steam pump and reinforcements of firemen were sent.

By midnight, however, the rioters and police had gained the upper hand and dispersed the mob. The streets are now deserted, except for the armed patrols. The authorities are taking measures to ascertain the names of the ringleaders in the riots. As a result of the intervention of the prefect the strike leaders have decided to submit the employers' terms to a referendum of the workmen Wednesday.

LAST OF THE SERIES.

Regular Troops Wind Up the Instructional War Maneuvers.

Camp Young, West Point, Ky., Oct. 14.—With Gen. Joseph Wheeler as one of the spectators, the last of the series of instructive maneuvers in the war game at Camp Young was held Tuesday. Wednesday the 3,000 regulars still in camp here will pass in review before Gen. Bates and on Friday the various commands will return to their stations.

Tuesday's work, while interesting, did not develop many situations calling for use of strategy. It consisted of an attack on a prepared position held by a brown force consisting of three troops of cavalry, a battalion of infantry and a battery of artillery commanded by Maj. Bidgley. Maj. Bidgley's men threw up kneeling earthworks commanding three roads and a stretch of open country. The attack was made by the blue force commander, Maj. Bell, and consisted of five battalions of infantry, a regiment of cavalry and the 20th battery of artillery.

Maj. Bell opened the attack with his artillery at 1,500 yards and bringing the infantry up in echelon, firing by rushes attempted to flank the earthworks with the cavalry (dismounted). The attempt was not successful and the umpires were mainly concerned with estimating the effect of the fire of the opposing forces and the modifying effects of the earthworks and the cover taken by the attacking force. This position was a very strong one and the attack was very well delivered. According to the rules of the game the attacking force was halted before it came into actual contact with the browns.

Gen. Bates will leave for the Ft. Riley maneuvers Wednesday night. He will be accompanied by Col. N. N. Rappaport, the Russian military attaché, who has been attending the maneuvers at Camp Young. Col. H. T. Foster, of the English military engineers, will return to the British embassy at Washington. Col. John L. Wagner, chief umpire, accompanied by Col. Dorst, Col. Treat and others will start for Ft. Riley Thursday.

FIRST POSTAL TRIAL.

Daniel V. Miller and Joseph M. Johns the Defendants.

The Government Charges Them With Conspiracy For the Purpose of Obtaining Money From J. J. Ryan, a Turf Commissioner.

Cincinnati, Oct. 14.—The first trial under about two dozen indictments against post office officials, secured in different parts of the country by the government recently, was begun here Tuesday. The defendants are Daniel Voorhees Miller, of Terre Haute, Ind., formerly assistant attorney general for the post office department at Washington, and his friend, Joseph M. Johns, an attorney at Rockville, Ind.

The government charged a conspiracy between these defendants for the purpose of obtaining money from John J. Ryan, a turf commissioner with offices in Cincinnati and St. Louis, for protecting him from post office officials in the use of the mails for his schemes.

Miller claims absolute ignorance of any transaction that may have occurred between Ryan and Johns.

Johns claims that he made an ordinary contract with Ryan as attorney to assist in securing a decision from the postal department after presentation of the case.

Both defendants emphatically deny any understanding between themselves or with Ryan or any conspiracy. The most eminent counsel are engaged on both sides. Miller and Johns were old friends, having lived in adjoining counties in Indiana for years, where both have been prominent politically, professionally and otherwise.

While District Attorney Sherman McPherson and his assistants, Moultrie and Darby, have been working on the case for some time, they were assisted Tuesday by Charles H. Robb, assistant attorney general for the postal department at Washington; D. C. Cochran, chief of post office inspectors; Inspectors Vickery and Fulton, who arrested Miller and Johns, and others.

The defendants have been indicted jointly on six counts of conspiring to bribe John J. Ryan & Co. of Cincinnati and St. Louis. The government has called a dozen witnesses and the defense three times so far, so that it is not expected that the arguments will be reached until the latter part of the week. The witnesses Tuesday were called in the following order: John J. Ryan, J. M. Morrow, telegraph operator at Rockville, Ind., and John J. Ryan, the latter being on the stand when court adjourned. As Ryan's direct examination has not been completed, it is thought that most of the time Wednesday will be taken up with his testimony regarding his transaction with postal officials in Washington and later with Johns as the alleged middle man at meetings in Terre Haute, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

GRAY GEM, OWNER AND DRIVER.

They Were Suspended For One Year By the Judges at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 13.—Gray Gem and his owner and driver, W. B. McDonald, were suspended by the judges Monday for one year. The suspension occurred after Gray Gem won the fifth heat of the 2:16 trot with Scott Hudson in the sulky. Gray Gem had won the first two heats of the race and lost the third and fourth heats to Gracie Kellar. Rumors had reached the ears of the judges before the race was called that McDonald would attempt to lay up one or two heats. They called him into the stand before the first heat and warned him. He was again warned after he lost the third heat and after the fourth heat Gray Gem was placed in charge of a policeman. Hudson was awarded $100 for his drive. Betting on the race was moderate.

It developed Monday night that there was heavy betting on the race won by Gray Gem, who with owner and driver, was suspended. It is reported that her real owner is a horseman named Dempsey, who lost $250 in pools on her.

IN A RACE RIOT.

Two Were Shot, One Fatally, at Kevil, Near Paducah, Ky.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 13.—A battle occurred Sunday night at Kevil, a small station on the Illinois Central railroad, between Negroes and white youths.

Crockett Childress, a white boy, was shot over the heart and fatally wounded, and Tom Hall, a Negro, was shot through the arm.

Hall is the only one of either party under arrest.

The fight started because the Negroes ordered the white people to leave the legal department of the postmaster general at Washington, J. M. Morrow, telegraph operator at Rockville, Ind., and John J. Ryan, the latter being on the stand when court adjourned. As Ryan's direct examination has not been completed, it is thought that most of the time Wednesday will be taken up with his testimony regarding his transaction with postal officials in Washington and later with Johns as the alleged middle man at meetings in Terre Haute, Cincinnati and St. Louis.

GAME IN BRACKEN COUNTY.

There Is More Than the Usual Amount This Season.

Brooksville, Ky., Oct. 12.—Our "sports" are now beginning to cast an anxious eye at the friendly quail and fat bunny as they venture out on the pikes and byways. Much interest is now manifested in the stacks of shells displayed in our merchants' windows, and the great amount of interest, only a forerunner of the winter's sport. That there is more than the usual amount of game in the country this is an undisputed fact, as only a casual skirmish in the woods will prove beyond any doubt. The spring months were dry and healthy, suitable for a successful raising of all the young. These suitable conditions for a large supply of the young birds and rabbits have caused a general belief that more than the usual amount of sport awaits our "sharpshooters." Squirrels are not very abundant, but some of our "best sports" carry a few tails to tell of their superior marksmanship. One wolf is known to habit a heavy woods two miles north of Brooksville, and no little hope is entertained that the winter snows will aid in tracking him.

LAW AND ORDER TICKET.

For Circuit Court Clerk:
A. L. HAGINS,

For Sheriff:
CHARLES TERRY.

For Jailer:
SYLVESTER HOWARD.

THE issue in the campaign now on in this county is not politics, but the rights and privileges of the people.

Shall the people of this county have the privilege to select their own officers, or shall MILLER and his COMMITTEE select them?

A convention was called in September to nominate a Circuit Court Clerk, which resulted in the selection of delegates instructed for A. L. Hagins from eight of the twelve precincts, representing about three-fourths of the Democratic votes of this county. Yet MILLER and his COMMITTEE gave THEIR NOMINATION to one Wm. D. Back, not allowing the delegates a vote or to make a motion before them or be heard.

THIS SAME MILLER and his COMMITTEE, or, a majority of THEM, have refused to allow the Democrats of this county the privilege of nominating a candidate for Sheriff or Jailer, to this good day, although both offices were declared vacant last spring, and it is now too late to call a convention.

Will a Democrat feel obligated to support a nominee of this committee?

Would a ticket nominated by THIS COMMITTEE have any of the qualities of Democracy about it? It is only the work of the oligarchy here in Jackson, who care nothing about Democracy, only to use it as a means to attain their own selfish ends.

Do you, fellow Democrats, feel that it is your duty to support a ticket put before you by this GANG, thus by your votes indorse the doings that have been carried on in this county under THEIR PROTECTION for the past two years? If you do, vote for them; if not, then we invite you to vote for the people's nominees—Hagins, Terry and Howard—whose names will appear under the Log Cabin device, because the people have been refused the privilege of nominating any candidate under any other device, or of placing their names elsewhere.

Elect them, for they know how and will perform the duties of their offices without being dictated to by a boss.

Down with the OLIGARCHY!

They took in everything, and at last, Foreman had to go to bed, and when he awoke he found to his sorrow, that he was $405.95 "to the bad." A Jolly Crowd.

Miss Nellie Marcum, accompanied by her brothers, Tom and Alfred, and Miss Julia Williams, spent last Sunday visiting the family of Mrs. Shely, near Elkatawa, about three miles west from Jackson, on the L. & E. They reported a pleasant day gathering papaw's, chestnuts, persimmons and other frost-ripened, autumn-flavored fruits.

When they returned they brought two natural wonders—a pumpkin weighing twenty pounds, and which Master
Alfred declares would make a capital
Jack-o-Lantern; and a large eagle which Tom killed, measuring five feet from tip to tip.

Agents.

Form Partnership.

Judge C. X. Bowling and J. Wise
Hagins have entered into a partnership for the practice of law, and have established their office in the New Office, over the Post Office, where they will be glad to receive all their friends and old and new business in their line.

We presume that both members of this firm are pretty well known to the people of this county, and do not need any introduction through the columns of the News.

Judge Bowling has been a member of this bar for about ten years, and has served a term as Police Judge of Jackson. As to the other member of the firm, make no mistake, they are very much. They ask that they be given a share of your patronage, and let them show what they can do.

Do Good—It Pays.

A Chicago man has observed that 'Good deeds are better than real estate deeds—some of the latter are worthless. Act kindly and gently, show sympathy and lend a helping hand. You cannot possibly lose it.'
Most men appreciate a kind word and encouragement more than substantial help. There are persons in this community who might truthfully say: "My good friend, cheer up. A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will rid you of your cold, and there is no danger whatever from pneumonia when you use that medicine. It always cures. I know it for it has helped me out many a time." For sale by Day Bros. Co.

One of Breathitt's First Settlers.

The following is clipped from the Louisville Times:
"Mrs. Phoebe Banks, of Breathitt county, aged 107, is the oldest person in that county and probably in that section of the State. Mrs. Banks went to what is now Breathitt county when a mere child and has not been outside its borders a half dozen times in a hundred years. She lives with her son and daughter-in-law on a small farm near Jackson. Her son is past seventy years of age. The old lady is in possession of all her faculties, and it is said, distinctly recalls all of the Breathitt feud troubles and talks intelligently concerning them. She was a member of the third party of settlers in the territory which is now Breathitt, Perry, Owsley and Clay counties. She is said to have never worn a pair of shoes in her life.
She has records at her home, proving her to be more than 103, and hers if say she is 107."

Hurrah For Capt. Longmire.

The soldiers, under command of Capt. Longmire, are hard at work putting down a plank walk on Arlington Avenue. This was the worst pavement in the city, and no attempt had been made to repair it. Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the Captain and his force of "carpenters" for the repairs he had made for the city.

scanty, suppressed, too frequent, irreg-

HONORS WERE EVEN.

Although the Attorney Has Somewhat of a Risk in Retaliating on the Judge.

John R. Eldridge, a well known western New York attorney, recently had occasion to argue a case before a justice of the peace in one of the small towns near Rochester. It happened that Mr. Eldridge and the justice belonged to different political parties, had been opposed to each other in several contests and were far from being on the best of terms. Each, to use a slang expression, "had it in for the other." The justice scored the first point, says the New York Herald.

In a field near the court room a donkey was feeding. Just as Mr. Eldridge was in the midst of his plea something disturbed the animal and it broke forth with a resonant bray.

"Just a minute, Mr. Eldridge, just a minute," said the justice blandly. "I cannot hear two at once."

The attorney was hard hit, but he said nothing and waited his turn. It came when the justice was explaining a point of law to the jury. Again the bray of the donkey resounded through the court room. Mr. Eldridge placed his hand at his ear.

"Would you mind repeating that, your honor?" he said in his pleading tones. "There was such an echo that I could not understand."

Perhaps the attorney was guilty of contempt of court, but the general opinion in the court room seemed to be that honors were about even.

Meaneat Man.

The meanest man in Illinois lives at Centerville. He put a large porcelain egg in the nest of an ambitious hen and found that the egg she had afterward laid was increased in size. Then he put a goose egg in the nest; the afterward laid egg just as large. He was so pleased with the scheme that he put a white-washed football in the nest and waited results. When he went the next time to search for eggs he found one as high as a football, but no hen in sight. Securing the egg, he saw engraved on it by the hen photography these words: "I'm ostrich, but I have done my best." Later he found the hen inside of the egg—Leaf River (Ill.) Mirror.

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be quickly and permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, she had used it with the best results and advised me to try it. I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I used it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."—Miss Alice M. Smith, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee Minneapolis Study Club.

Beauty and strength in women vanish early in life because of monthly pain or some menstrual irregularity. Many suffer silently and see their best gifts fade away. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women preserve roundness of form and freshness of face because it makes their entire female organism healthy. It carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safeguard of woman's health.

The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women published in this paper constantly.

Mrs. C. Kleinschrodt, Morrison, Ill., says:—

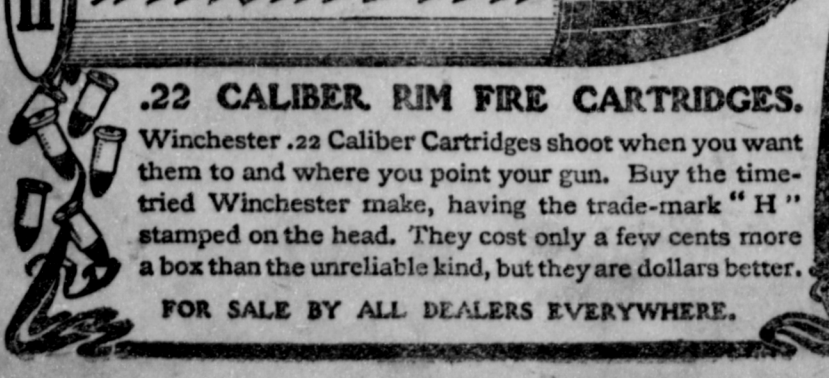

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered ever since I was thirteen years of age with my menses. They were irregular and very painful. I doctored a great deal but received no benefit. A friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and after taking a few bottles of it, I found great relief."

"Menstruation is now regular and without pain. I am enjoying better health than I have for sometime."

How is it possible for us to make it plainer that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will positively help all sick women? All women are constituted alike, rich and poor, high and low, all suffer from the same organic troubles. Surely, no one can wish to remain weak and sickly, discouraged with life and without hope for the future, when proof is so unmistakable that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure monthly suffering—all womb and ovarian troubles, and all the ills peculiar to women.

Needed a Knife.

Prof. George Lincoln Burr, of Cornell who lately toured New England on his bicycle, returns with little stories that are now quaint, now strange, now humorous. A story of the latter sort concerns a visit to Tennessee.

"I arrived one night at a mountaineer's cabin," said the professor, "and asked for shelter for the night. The good people were very hospitable. They gave me a comfortable bed and an excellent meal.

"While I was eating the meal my host watched me narrowly to see that I had everything I wanted. He kept ordering his wife to fill my glass, to bring me more bread, and so forth. Finally, when I began to eat a piece of apple pie, he exclaimed in an indignant tone:

"Jane, why don't you bring the gentleman a knife? Don't you see him here trying to eat his pie with a fork?"

Still Another Case.

Frankville, Wis., Oct. 12th.—Many remarkable cures have been reported from all over the country, but there is one right here in Frankville which is certainly worth public notice, and which has not as yet been given to the public.

Mrs. Louis Markison of this place had been a sick woman for a long time and could not find anything to give her any help. She suffered all the painful symptoms of what is generally known as female weakness.

Every woman who reads her story will understand these distressing conditions which combine to make the lives of many women one long burden of weakness and suffering.

Mrs. Markison chanced one day to hear of a new remedy called Dodd's Kidney Pills, that was said to be a splendid medicine for women's weakness. She determined to try some and soon found herself getting better.

She kept on with the pills and was cured. Speaking of her case Mrs. Markison says:—"I can and do praise Dodd's Kidney Pills as a remedy for female weakness. They are the best medicine I have ever known, and have done me a great deal of good."

"Tried to skin me, that scoundrel did!" "What did he want?" "Wanted to get out a book partly, he wrote the book and let me write the advertisement." I turned him down. "He wasn't going to do all the literary work!"—Baltimore News.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson in the International Series for October 18, 1903—David's Confession.

THE LESSON TEXT.

(Ps. 51:1-17)

1. Have mercy upon me, O God, according to Thy loving kindness, according unto the multitude of Thy tender mercies, blot out my transgressions.

2. Wash me thoroughly from mine iniquity, and cleanse me from my sin.

3. For I acknowledge my transgressions; and my sin is ever before me.

4. Against Thee, Thou only, have I sinned, and done this evil in Thy sight; that Thou mightest be justified when Thou speakest, and be clear when Thou judgest.

5. Behold, I was shaped in iniquity; and in sin did my mother conceive me.

6. Behold, Thou desirest truth in the inward part; and in the hidden part Thou shalt make me to know wisdom.

7. Purge me with hyssop, and I shall be clean; wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow.

8. Make me to hear joy and gladness; that the bones which Thou hast broken may rejoice.

9. Hide Thy face from my sins, and blot out all mine iniquities.

10. Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me.

11. Cast me not away from Thy presence; and take not Thy Holy Spirit from me.

12. Restore unto me the joy of Thy salvation; and uphold me with Thy free spirit.

13. Then will I teach transgressors Thy ways, and sinners shall be converted unto Thee.

14. Deliver me from bloodguiltiness, O God; Thou of my salvation; and my tongue shall sing aloud of Thy righteousness.

15. O Lord, open mine eyes, that I may not forget Thy law.

16. For Thou desirest not sacrifice, else would I give it; Thou delightest not in burnt offering.

17. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit; a broken and a contrite heart, O God, Thou wilt not despise.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

(2 Sam. 9.) One of the many indications of David's generosity and true-heartedness is found in his kindness to Mephibosheth, the crippled son of his friend Jonathan. An ordinary oriental monarch of David's time would have exterminated the family of the former king, root and branch. David did not do so, but sent across the Jordan to Deborah, where Mephibosheth was living in concealment, and brought him to Jerusalem with great honor, restoring to him the land of Saul which had been confiscated, and added him to the constantly increasing number of courtiers who enjoyed the king's favor and lived more or less at his expense at the court in Jerusalem.

(2 Sam. 11-12:25.) David stood the tests of adversity better than those of prosperity. Ease and luxury were beginning to tell on his character. Instead of leading his armies into battle as formerly, he now left them to Joab, and remained himself in his harem at Jerusalem. The fact that in these days it was considered eminently proper for a king to have a harem did not make that harem less demoralizing. The sad story of David's moral weakness when tempted, and then of his deliberate murder to conceal his sin and add another woman to his harem, is told in Chap. 11. "Thus far," says Aelian, "the story belongs to the usual crimes of an oriental despot."

What follows, however, could have been found nowhere in the ancient world but in the Jewish monarchy. When after the terrible year lived with a guilty conscience, the prophet Nathan again appeared before David to do the hard duty of a friend (12:1-12). David broke down completely, confessing his sin, and repenting with a repentance that was real and a change of life. Black as the sin had been, Jehovah forgave the penitent man, but the results of the sin troubled David's life to the end.

(Ps. 51:1-5.) In connection with this story of the sin and repentance of Israel's greatest king, we study the marvelous prayer for pardon in the Fifty-first Psalm. It is not known who wrote this Psalm, but it fits David's circumstances so fully that many suppose it was written by him after the visit of Nathan. In its words the penitence and aspiration of those who have done wrong have found expression through all the centuries to the present time. Is there not a place for the confession and prayer of the first few verses in every Christian experience? The one offering the prayer has hope, but it is in God's loving kindness rather than in his own deserts. "Against Thee, Thou only, have I sinned." The very natural feeling of the heart, when we sin, as it has before the penitence and righteous God to whom in its sin it has been untrue. The Psalms are written in the language of the feelings. "That thou mayest be justified;" "By confessing my guilt I admit that Thy condemnation is just."

(Vs. 6-12.) "Purify me with hyssop." "Pronounce me clean from my sin just as the priest pronounces the leper clean as he sprinkles him with the hyssop branch." Gladness: That comes only with a sense of sin put away and forgiven. "Bone of my bone," broken.

"A very strong figure, denoting the most complete prostration."—Perowne.

(Vs. 12-17.) "Then will I teach." No one can bring others to Christ more effectively than the one who has come close to God's fatherly heart in this experience of contrition and forgiveness. "Thy praise." An expression of the joy that fills the heart of the prodigal after his return to the father's house. "Thou delightest not in sacrifice." Nor in any other external thing in itself, but in a real, vital change of heart.

ALL SORTS.

It is not considered to a man's credit to merit success if he doesn't obtain it. In the absence of horses both a plow and a mower were used tied behind his automobile by Mr. Raser, an Ohio farmer. The machine was geared too fast to give the best results.

Ammonal, a new mixture of powdered aluminum and nitrate of ammonia, is claimed to be one of the safest of explosives. It is not liable to explosion by shock or friction, is not readily fired, is especially free from spontaneous decomposition, and is even credited with the rather surprising property of being unaffected by moisture. It is fired with the usual percussion cap.

The German emperor has presented a costly piece of porcelain from the royal Prussian factory to Ross R. Winans, of Baltimore, Md., in recognition of his labors in restoring part of an ancient Roman frontier fortress near Homburg, Germany. In the course of his excavations on the site of the fortress Mr. Winans found many interesting articles, including bronze spear heads, swords, Roman bracks, buckles, coins and ornaments.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY ENDORSES PE-RU-NA.

Gentlemen:—"I can cheerfully say that Mrs. Schley has taken Pe-ru-na and I believe with good effect."—W. S. SCHLEY—Washington, D. C.

ADMIRAL SCHLEY, one of the foremost, notable heroes of the Nineteenth Century. A name that starts terror in the heart of every Spaniard. A man of steady nerve, clear head, undaunted courage and prompt decision.

Approached by a friendly recent, his opinion was asked as to the efficacy of Peru, the national catarrh remedy. Without the slightest hesitation he gave this remedy his endorsement. It appeared on later conversation that Peru has been used in his family, where it is a favorite remedy.

Such endorsements serve to indicate the wonderful hold that Peru has upon the minds of the American people. It is out of the question that so great and famous a man as Admiral Schley could have any other reason for giving his endorsement to Peru than this positive conviction that the remedy is all that he says it is.
